ROBERT PETERSON

Performing yet another role in his illustrious singing/acting career, Robert Peterson again portrays The Innkeeper in the Promised Valley Playhouse 1995 production of THE GIFT OF CHRISTMAS.

It would not be overstated to say that Mr. Peterson has created dozens of characters and performed thousands of times in opera, Broadway productions, summer stock, dinner theatre, touring shows, as Artist-in-Residence at the University of Utah, television, films and concerts. Extensive training, an outstanding voice and charismatic personality have made Mr. Peterson one of the most dynamic artists in the musical and theatrical world today.

Born in Omaha, Nebraska, Mr. Peterson trained two years at the Juilliard School of Music, then moved on to Hunter College, Chatham Square Music School and Mannes College in New York City. He has sung with leading orchestras, opera and chorale societies and was the lead bass-baritone for five years at the Metropolitan Opera Studio, where he starred in such operas as LA BOHEME, AIDA, LA TRAVIATA, and DON GIOVANNI.

After starring in many summer stock productions, Mr. Peterson achieved stardom when he replaced Robert Goulet as Lancelot in the Broadway production of CAMELOT. After touring extensively with this show, he was hailed by the critics as having "the finest baritone voice on the modern musical scene." Mr. Peterson played the role of King Arthur in CAMELOT in theatres from Maine to the Rockies, after which he toured the U.S. in his own two-man show entitled FROM BROADWAY WITH LOVE.

For the past 20 years, Mr. Peterson has been Associate Professor and Artist-in-Residence at the U of U Theatre Dept and the Pioneer Theatre Company. His many starring roles there include MY FAIR LADY, THE MUSIC MAN, KISMET, SOUTH PACIFIC, and Anthony in Shakespeare's ANTHONY AND CLEOPATRA. He was asked to return and repeat his portrayal of Don Quixote in MAN OF LA MANCHA for three consecutive seasons.

Every theatre-goer has a favorite "Robert Peterson role," but he is best known for Don Quixote and King Arthur, either of which could be considered a signature role for this compelling performer.

Promised Valley Playhouse is delighted to have Robert Peterson back again "for one brief shining moment" on the same stage where he performed as "Jed" in the first of PVP's many productions of Promised Valley. His performance as The Innkeeper brings a warm glow to PVP audiences as they participate in the festive holiday spirit of THE GIFT OF CHRISTMAS.

AT VOLVO, WE NEVER cut CORNERS.
BUT WHO SAYS YOU CAN'T round THEM.

THE NEW 960 FROM VOLVO. One glance at the new Volvo 960 reveals two things: First, our engineers are as obsessive as ever. Second, they've loosened up considerably.

It's almost as if Volvo engineers allowed Nordic winds to shape the body-the entire car painstakingly sculpted to reveal smoother, rounder, more graceful lines. While the fit and finish reveal the legendary craftsmanship that you've come to expect from Volvo. And you'll find no effort has been spared on the car that lies beneath this body. A totally new suspension, a revamped engine with more low-end torque and a gracefully appointed interior offer an unforgettable driving experience.

All of which proves that every so often a predictable Swede can throw you a curve. For more information, call 521-6111.
